

Make two cuts, A-B and C-D, being sure that C-D is above the row of small bones. The pieces cut off are free from bones. The rest can be eaten carefully by an adult.

There are many fresh-water fish which have a bone structure like the illustration: large and small-mouthed bass, rock bass, crappies, bream, bluegills, sunfish, war-mouth, perch, walleyed pike (Great Lakes pickerel), white bass, yellow bass, trout, sheepshead (fresh-water drum). Catfish and bullheads have only the backbone and the ribs, so they are even easier to prepare.

There are some fish that have more bones, such as carp, mullet, suckers, red horse, eastern pickerel, northern pike, and muskellunge. For these, this method is not recommended.

Hints for Hypocrites

In many cases, narrow-mindedness is caused by wearing the halo too tight.

Olin Miller in the Atlanta Journal (24 July '51).

Churches are hospitals for sinners, not clubs for saints.

Gilcrofter.

So many of us have been inoculated with small doses of Christianity that we are immune to the real thing.

Lester Kroepel.

In giving the devil his due, few people are taxed without representation.

Weekly Progress (24 Oct. '52).

The Open Door

A NEW 7th-grade boy, George, moved into the neighborhood. He was measured, and accepted. He was a good sport and basketball player.

But he went to public school, while his promoter John attended St. Cyril's. St. Cyril's needed good players. John found that George's deceased father had been a Catholic, but his mother, stepfather, and the rest of the family went to no church.

John pleaded with Sister Mary to admit George to St. Cyril's, already overflowing. "But S'ter, he's tall, and a dead shot for the basket."

Sister still demurred. George was a non-Catholic; it would be unfair to admit him while Catholic children were waiting to get in.

"But S'ter, he really wants to be a Catholic like his dad. I'll help him along." John won. George was enrolled at St. Cyril's.

True to their promises, the boys studied religion together. By spring, George was baptized, his mother had her marriage blessed and returned to her duties, and his little sister was baptized. O, yes, and St. Cyril's topped their basketball league.

Sister Mary Celestine, S.S.M.O.

BING CROSBY doesn't know it, but he led me into the Church. As a child, I attended Baptist Sunday school, but I stopped going to any church while I was still in my teens. My interest in Catholicism was first aroused by seeing such movies as Going My Way and The Keys of the Kingdom.

I saw Going My Way three times, and it made such a deep impression on me that I began asking questions at the store where I worked as a clerk. One of my fellow workers was a Catholic. He and his wife invited me to attend Mass with them. Such a feeling of reverence came over me that tears rushed to my eyes.

I took instructions, and was baptized. Shortly afterward, I was married; two years later, my husband was baptized.
